

Rainbows Information for Families

Rainbows is a stay and play group that celebrates strengths, interests and differences. It is for pre-school children who have additional needs, who are neurodivergent and/or disabled and their families.

It provides:

- An opportunity for parents to meet,
- A space for children to socialise and explore with a variety of resources,
- Time to have fun, playing and learning together.

The practitioners leading the group will play with your child alongside you, and you can talk with them about your child's development. They will provide ideas for activities that could stimulate your child's development and/or they may signpost other appropriate services or support.

They can also provide some guidance around applications for Disability Living Allowance and charity grants to which you may be entitled. There is a shared snack for those that want it.

The groups run most weeks at six locations across the city. Siblings up to the age of 8 are welcome at groups in school holidays.
